EY-Splunk strategic alliance brief

EY

Building a better working world

“

Together, Ernst & Young LLP and Splunk will help enterprises improve their view of data across their organizations and more quickly identify security threats for faster response to cyber attacks.

– David Burg, EY Americas Cybersecurity Leader

The EY-Splunk alliance combines the trusted EY experience and thought leadership with Splunk’s market-leading data analytics platform to enable our clients to ask better questions, find better answers and bring data to every decision in their organizations.

EY Cybersecurity and Technology service offerings enable trust in systems, design and data, so organizations can take more risk, make transformational change and enable innovation with confidence.

We have a dedicated Splunk practice group with a proven methodology and ability to scale rapidly to meet client needs. We also have extensive engagement experience with Splunk platforms and products and familiarity with enterprise-scale deployments for Fortune 500 companies. And we have earned more than 190 Splunk certifications globally.
